The Daily Record

Monroe County slipped, skidded and cindered its way out of the clutches of a six-inch snowfall yesterday.

The heavy, clinging snow began to fall shortly after 4 a.m. yesterday. Two hours later, a junior-sized Highway Department army of 75 men went on the roads to try to keep county traffic on the move.

The men took with them four graders, plowing areas which had been made treacherous by the wet snow. A fleet of 27 trucks hit slippery areas on main highways, then moved onto secondary roads.

Driving conditions had improved sufficiently by nightfall to cut down the number of graders from four to two on the road.

All 75 men, however, remained on the job. Most of the time they worked by relays, staying out for three or four-hour periods, then coming back in to the shed for an hour's rest.

Traffic, although considerably slowed by the process of clearing the highways, moved along at a moderate speed.

There were few congested areas in the county's two main boroughs—Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg.

Highways running through mountainous regions were reported "very slippery" and potentially "dangerous." These areas included roads through Mount Pocono, over Effort and Bangor mountains and the narrow, twisted surface of Route 90 from Stroudsburg through Cresco.

State police troopers, highway workers and borough policemen kept a weather-eye on roads and motorists as the snow continued to fall last night.

As of 11 last night, two accidents had been recorded which could have been serious but apparently were not.

One accident on W. Main St., Stroudsburg, caused chest injuries to a woman passenger.

In East Stroudsburg, a backing Greyhound bus skidded down an embankment on Brown St. as a result of the adverse weather conditions. No one was injured.

An estimate of snowfall at Mount Pocono Airport at 4 p.m. yesterday showed approximately four and one-half-inches at that time.

An 11 p.m. estimate put the total snowfall up to that time at six inches. The snow was still falling at that time.

Monroe County's snowfall was a part of the storm which enveloped all of Pennsylvania throughout the day yesterday. This storm, in turn, had moved with what the Weather Bureau termed "jet speed" from the Midwest where it had hovered over the weekend, causing serious traffic tieups and severe cold. Snow fell all along the coast from New England to Washington, D.C.

Temperatures, for the most part, were snappish but not severe in this area.

The storm had its major effect on the highways through the region.

Officials at the State Highway Department shed on Day St., East Stroudsburg, were expecting a "long, hard night of it" last night.

Operating in an atmosphere which one official compared to a "beehive," the workers and dispatchers kept up a steady stream of life-protecting cinders and snowplows to all areas of the county far into the night.

A secondary effect of the storm made itself felt during the day yesterday when hundreds of hunters tried in vain to track buck deer in the rapidly-falling snow.

Although the snow was falling so thick and fast that visibility was cut far below good hunting level, many hunters still took to the woods.

The general consensus last night seemed to be that it had been a "pretty bad" day for the buck hunters.

District Game Protector John Doebling, Stroudsburg, said "There weren't too many killed today (Tuesday)."

There apparently wasn't any interaction between the weatherman. As Doebling put it:

"There's either too much snow or not enough."

If the snowfall stopped during the night, however, Doebling thought most hunters could look forward to a good day today.

No violations of hunting rules had been reported yesterday.

Supervisors Urge Repeal Of U.S. Tax On Gasoline

Harrisburg, Pa.—The Pennsylvania State Association of Township Supervisors yesterday called for repeal of federal taxes on gasoline and elimination of federal aid for roads.

"This action is the result of excessive and prohibitive specifications of the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads and the fact that Pennsylvania pays into the federal government about four times as much as they get back in road aid," said the association.

Humphrey Sees Eisenhower Getting Along With Labor; Business Outlook Held Good

New York, (AP)—George M. Humphrey, President-elect Eisenhower's choice for secretary of the Treasury, said yesterday he hoped the new administration could avoid a rift with Sen. Robert A. Taft, critic of Eisenhower's selection of a secretary of labor.

Humphrey also said the new administration should have good relations with labor.

He commented at Eisenhowers' hotel headquarters after Taft described as "incredible" the designation of Martin P. Durkin as secretary of labor.

Humphrey said he had supported Taft in every campaign his fellow Ohioan had been in, including Taft's quest for the Republican presidential nomination.

He said, however, that so far as he knew Taft had not recommended him for a Cabinet post.

Paul Stockhammer, a worker for Eisenhower in the presidential campaign and chairman of a citizens' committee for Eisenhower in 1948, took sharp issue with Taft.

"Sen. Taft should be rebuked for his hasty rap at the Durkin appointment without first taking the

Curb On Amount Of Space Papers May Use In Backing Candidate Urged By Solon

Washington, (AP)—Congressmen hunting a way to bring some order into the chaos of political campaign spending heard a surprise suggestion yesterday for a curb on the amount of editorial space a newspaper may use to back a candidate.

That proposal, from Rep. Hoffman (R-Mich.), was in sharp contrast to go-slow advice offered by Chairman Arthur E. Summerfield of the Republican National Committee. While he conceded that more workable limitations on spending are desirable, Summerfield said the whole problem of changing the rules of voter wooing should be approached with caution.

The congressman and the GOP chairman, who is Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's selection to be postmaster general, were witnesses before a special House committee. The group, headed by Rep. Hale Boggs (D-La.), is concerned over loopholes in the law which permitted outlays in the recent campaign to soar into scores of millions of dollars. At the same time it is casting a critical eye at the letters of the rules which purport to limit outlays to amounts which witnesses call preposterously low for the era of airplane and television campaigning.

Hoffman, who will head the House Government Operations Committee in the Republican 83rd Congress, acknowledged that his proposal for a limit on newspaper space might involve complications—an obvious anticipation of objections that the proposal would interfere with freedom of the press.

Taft Blasts Ike's Choice Of Durkin

Washington, (AP)—Senator Robert A. Taft, in an explosive protest which could foreshadow a great legislative struggle between two wings of the GOP, yesterday labeled President-elect Eisenhower's choice of a secretary of labor as "incredible."

The Ohio senator's blast over the selection of Martin P. Durkin shattered the outward show of harmony which prevailed during the election campaign between Eisenhower and the man he beat out for the Republican nomination.

In a statement from Cincinnati Taft described Durkin, 58-year-old head of the AFL plumbers' union, as a "partisan Truman Democrat."

He said the selection was an "affront" to labor voters who backed the GOP ticket, and also to Democrats who jumped party lines.

And he brought the matter down to more immediate political cases by asserting that Herbert Brownell has been "the key man in Cabinet appointments."

Brownell, picked by Eisenhower to be attorney general, has been closely associated with the Republican group around Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and was Dewey's campaign manager in 1948 when the New Yorker defeated Taft for the nomination.

Taft's implication was that the Dewey wing has taken over patronage and perhaps a commanding position on policy issues.

Taft said he had talked to Brownell and made "several recommendations" for appointments, adding:

"It was never even suggested that a man would be appointed who has always been a partisan Truman Democrat, who fought General Eisenhower's election, and advocated the repeal of the Taft-Hartley law."

He disclaimed any reflection on the character or ability of Durkin himself.

Taft's mention of the T-H labor law, and of the secretary-designate's stand on it, opened up the question of just how much cooperation Eisenhower can expect over patronage and perhaps a commanding position on policy issues.

State Rushes Overdue Aid To Schools

Harrisburg (P)—The Department of Public Instruction said yesterday it is struggling to catch up with overdue payments of appropriations to school districts around the state.

"All payments due fourth class school districts will clear this office by Thursday," said E. A. Quackenbush, director of the Bureau of School Administration.

He said the semi-annual payments to first, second and third class districts will be requisitioned by some time next week and then will go to the Treasury Department for payment.

The urgency of the situation was pointed up by reports that York and some other school districts may be forced to borrow money from banks at regular interest rates in order to meet school payrolls.

Quackenbush blamed the delay in payments on an accumulation of administrative and clerical work brought on by a 1951 law boosting school appropriations.

Payments to the Commonwealth's more than 2,000 fourth class school districts were due in October, he said. Payments to the two first class districts, 20 second class and more than 200 third class districts were due in November.

Wimer Presents Word Pictures Of Successes, Failures Of U.N. At Meeting Of Lions

Kurt Wimer, associate professor of social studies at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, addressed the local Lions at their dinner meeting last night in the Penn-Stroud Hotel. The talk dealt with the United Nations, a subject on which he is a specialist.

Touching on failures and successes of the U. N., he said that the Security Council, on which so many high hopes were built, had largely failed because of the facility with which the use of the veto can check its best efforts. Russia has used the veto 55 times, France once, United States and Great Britain not at all.

It is to be remembered, however, he pointed out, that the problems being presented to the council are problems that have never found any solution in the world, such as the problem of Korea. There seems to have been in the beginning a sort of naive hope that by some sort of quasi magic, solutions would be found, Wimer noted.

But in spite of recorded failures the council has rendered a vast service to civilization by mobilizing public opinion and that service is unending.

In a more practical sense, the speaker said, definite accomplishment is made through the General Assembly and the referring of difficult problems to that assembly is the result of American diplomatic effort. Americans should, in the coming year, watch the General Assembly.

The speaker paid a tribute to the activities of Lionism at the United Nations headquarters. He had reportedly found Lions' observers there at sessions of one kind or another which he had attended.

Sam Monatt presented the speaker.

The attendance contest is now in its second half and at the end of the first half Sam Everitt's team was in the lead with 16 points. The DeRenzi team and the Somers team were tied for second each with 14 points and the Kintz team with 13. Attendance at this session listed—Everitt 5, DeRenzi 14, Somers 12, Kintz 7.

The club voted to hold the next meeting at MacNamara's Gap View Inn, Emerson Rahn reported on the annual Christmas party to be held at the Penn-Stroud on Tuesday, Dec. 16. There will be refreshments for the young guests, Santa Claus will be there with and Mr. Reisenwitz as chaplain during the military service. The bugler was Robert Gaunt, while George Mosher, Harold Carlton and Claude Mader served on the firing squad.

The honor guard was composed of Earl Palmer, Herman Phillips, Melvin McElwain, Horatio Haas, Earl Cook and Fred Huffman.

Dr. Thomas B. Mullen, Mountaineer, will be out of his office from Dec. 1st to Dec. 8th.—Adv.

East Borough Council May Act To Equalize Assessments

Considers Move Taken At Bangor

East Stroudsburg Council faced up to the assessment problem last night.

The tone of the discussion indicated the borough may not be willing to wait for county commissioners to make the first move toward equalizing assessments.

There was general agreement that assessments in the borough are not on an equalized basis.

"It would be better to make the move and put assessments on an equalized basis than wait until the State steps in and does it for us," was one point brought out.

The question revolves around the new legislation passed last year. This says in effect that local assessors will only describe property from now on. The chief assessor will place the valuation on it according to a ratio of real value to assessed value to be made public by the county commissioners. It provided for better assessing means.

Nothing along these lines has been done by county commissioners.

Solicitor Charles R. Bensinger Jr. brought out the fact that Bangor has spearheaded a move in Northampton County with an experiment in reassessment which is evidently proving successful.

Bensinger said he understood Bangor has reassessed nearly every property in the borough. Assessments were set at a definite ratio of 20 per cent of the estimated market value.

One result was an increase of fifteen to twenty thousand a year in taxes. In spite of this, according to Bensinger, an appeal board was called to consider only eight appeals in the entire borough—after the reassessments had been completed.

Evidently county commissioners in Northampton were reluctant to give consent for the experiment (commissioners there are taking steps to comply with requirements of the new assessment legislation).

HOWEVER, consent was given when the borough, according to what Bensinger was told, indicated if consent to reassess on a local level were not given, every assessment made would be appealed.

A committee did the reassessing. Evidently some local assessors were willing; others had to go along willy-nilly. On the reassessing committee were members of council—including real estate dealer George Plush—and members of the Bangor school board.

East Stroudsburg council members decided to contact the Bangor council and get more detailed information on their action. It was planned to either have a Bangor council representative invited to appear at the local session, or send a committee to study the method at Bangor.

Other council business:

Permission will be granted the Pocono TV Relay Co. it was decided, to extend their cable from Stroudsburg across the State bridge and into East Stroudsburg. The firm will use mostly PP & L poles in stringing its cable.

Councilmen were informed that 110 days have passed without a fire alarm being turned in. "Are the alarm boxes working?" cracked one councilman. They are; the boxes are tested periodically.

Council moved to place No Parking signs on the west side of Lackawanna Ave., east side of N. Green St., and east side of Ely St.

The financial report showed: general fund $35,263.80; water fund $37,306.76; highway fund $1,031.47; and parking meter receipts $827.64.

East Stroudsburg Council Calls Upon Residents To Aid In Garbage Disposal

An end to the habit of residents putting out trash and garbage in paper bags and cardboard cartons was sought last night by East Stroudsburg Council.

The problem, apparently an old one in the borough, was brought up last night by Harold Shick, who holds the borough's contract for collecting trash and garbage.

Snowfall Cuts Visibility For Deer Hunters

Yesterday's steady snowfall reduced visibility to minimum and cut sharply into the buck kill on the second day of deer season.

Reports continued to trickle in from Monday's shooting, however.

One of the first to bring down a buck was Harriet Treble, East Stroudsburg RD 1, who shot a four-pointer around 11 a. m. on the Dutch Hill Gun Club property. Hunting nearby on the same property, James B. Sponeybarger, Philadelphia, bagged a six-pointer about 15 minutes after the season opened.

Hunters from the Arlington Heights section who shot deer Monday included Elwood Fenner, Gene Reish, Cpl. Ernest Papillion and Robert Bittenbender. The latter was hunting with a party that included Ernest, Clair and Lester Bittenbender.

Car Theft Reported

Stroudsburg borough police were asked yesterday to locate a car reported stolen from the parking lot at Worthington Mower Co., S. Second St., between 7 a. m. and noon.

Police said the owner, Blaine Singer, of Stroudsburg RD 3, listed his 1950 Chevrolet two-door sedan as missing from the lot while at work. The car is gray in color, with Pennsylvania license 0285-J. Singer told police the car contained a Mauser rifle, shells, hunting coat with license attached, and two hunting knives. Police said Singer left his keys in the ignition.

Subjects discussed at the meeting. The vigorous resolution adopted at the recent annual meeting of the National Milk Producers Federation will be considered. The federation proposes to seek federal legislation to "promulgate standards for natural dairy products and prohibit the manufacture and sale of products in semblance thereof." The New York State Farm Bureau in its annual meeting recommended that the state legislature continue to study the problem of these imitation dairy products.

Council members agreed among themselves generally that there had been few complaints about the collections, and agreed too that something should be done about correcting the problem.

Council approved a motion by Jack Wyckoff that the council advertise in the newspaper just what should be done by householders in setting out their rubbish, and to generally bring about stricter enforcement of the present ordinances.

Early Christmas Mailing

Along about December 23 or 24, some of us will be letting out with a few uncomplimentary remarks about the type of service provided by the Postoffice Department.

Of course, all of the invectives will be directed at that arm of the federal government and its employees. We will be careful to absolve ourselves of any blame in the event our gift package to Aunt Emmie and Uncle Bert doesn't arrive in time for Christmas. After all, hadn't we mailed the package the week before and it had to go only as far as Tidiot?

The Postoffice Department—in its efforts to avoid much of the crush of cards and packages during the week immediately preceding Christmas—recently issued an appeal that all of its patrons follow a specific mailing schedule that will guarantee the delivery of all Christmas mail before the holiday.

It requested the public to mail parcel post by December 1 for overseas; December 5 for out-of-state, and December 10 for local delivery. Cards should be mailed by December 1 for overseas; December 15 for out-of-state and December 18 for local delivery. Since December 1 has passed, the department suggests that overseas parcel post and cards be sent air mail.

The Daily Record feels that the Postoffice Department's proposal is a good one and should be followed by everyone who wants his Christmas mail delivered on time.

The fact that various postoffices will hire extra help to augment the regular force during the annual rush season is no excuse for us to put off our Christmas mailing until the last week. If we adhere to the Postoffice Department's suggested mailing dates, there is every indication that very few cards and packages that are addressed correctly will fail to reach their destination by Christmas.

The Wall Street Journal says:

Explanation Overdue

In yesterday's issue of this newspaper Mr. Otten wrote from Washington that the Republican leaders in Congress seemed to be growing less enthusiastic about investigating and making public some of the things that have taken place in the Federal Government over the past few years.

There are various reasons for the cooling of the investigating ardor but they add up to the fact that the Republican leaders saw some risk and inconvenience to themselves.

Men are not called to office to serve their own convenience. The outgoing regime seemed to think they were and, as we understood it, that was one of the reasons that the Republicans offered for voting their party into office.

Recent investigations have turned up some unsavory situations in various parts of the government. There is a suspicion that not all such situations have been revealed and these suspicions are fed by the fact that those who could make the facts known have not done so but instead often have resisted the efforts of investigators to get at the facts.

If those suspicions are well founded the public has a right to know the truth. If they are not well founded, then the public also has a right to know that—in fact will be glad to know. It will not do for the Republicans merely to sweep the whole matter under the rug and ask the public to forget about it.

One of the subjects on which we think a great many people would like to have more facts is the attack on Pearl Harbor. The eleventh anniversary of that attack which brought this country in the second world war is next Sunday, December 7. Pearl Harbor, it will be recalled, also fell on a Sunday.

Hours before that attack took place Washington knew that the Japanese were about to strike. No adequate measures to warn Pearl Harbor were taken and this despite the fact that the danger of such a Japanese move had been known and discussed for years; in fact the Japanese attack was a copy of a maneuver executed some years before in war games.

The fleet lay in Pearl Harbor like a flock of sitting ducks. The airplanes were on the ground. An enlisted man who saw the Japanese planes on radar was disregarded and told to hush. And so it went. All in all there were probably a dozen circumstances that should have aroused suspicion and caused an alert.

The American public has been given much scattered information but the only explanation has been a very lame one. The explanation is that by some remarkable coincidence a dozen people from the highest in command down to the ranks, all and at one and the same time, simply went to sleep at the switch. Had suspicious been aroused in any quarter and the ordinary precautions taken, the attack could have been met.

There is the added strange circumstance that some months before Pearl Harbor a suspicion that a Japanese attack was in the making had been immediately followed by an order for the most extraordinary precautions.

A Senate committee spent long weeks investigating Pearl Harbor and came up with a majority report which can fairly be called a "whitewash." A minority report could do no more than express suspicions that all had not been told and point out that the committee had been refused some of the documents and testimony which would shed more light.

The Republicans made a campaign promise to turn some light into dark places. It is to be hoped that they do not regard that promise as "campaign oratory" and we think that they might begin to perform by explaining Pearl Harbor.

Fielder's Choice In Mexico

The sun is bright and warm in Mexico, the foliage more brilliant, the music softer, the people gayer, and the critics fewer. You can't bear the hours. Not a Mexican answers to the name of Kefauver; no gauchos respond to a Carey for Halley. Bill O'Dwyer's health is not too good, and there is nothing in New York that would improve it. If he has a mood of self-pity over his own troubles he can always go to the bull ring and watch the guy with the red cape down there in the main event where "I object." "That question is immaterial" and "Let me explain it through a prepared statement" can do him no good. Under the circumstances, you can blame him if he isn't too keen for a return to Gotham, even assuming he could tell all with the rugged fearlessness that was in his eyes, manner and fist in the days when he jugged bricks, fired steamship boilers, pounded the pavements, studied law at night and rose to the top in the Horatio Alger manner.

New York would like to feel that "Senor" O'Dwyer would and could come clean, emerging as fine a man as he seemed to be most of the journey from the bottom up. There are those who think he could come through okay, except for possible exposure as a fellow who, in his later years, became too tolerant of scandalous situations and then are those who insist he was in up to his neck and has no convincing "out." This writer, a little naive perhaps, wishes the man who landed in New York with $25 in his jeans and came to be the first 200 pages of "Horatio Alger" wind up with a final fifty

Complete Overhaul Of U.N. Necessary After Lie Leaves

Washington Report — By Fulton Lewis, Jr.

Washington — It is unfair to blame the Norwegian people for the accident that placed Trygve Lie in the office of secretary general of the United Nations.

The Norwegian Socialist government, American and European Communists, and the U. S. State Departments are responsible.

Norwegians, current visitors from there report, were pleased that their nation was honored when a native was selected for the first secretary general of the new international organization.

They have, however, wondered ever since why one of the country's minor politicians, addicted to such curiosity over the Kremlin, got the job.

It is a legitimate incident for current inquiry, since a second-rate socialist from Norway operating behind a shield of diplomatic immunity has been making cracks at our Congress and our system of justice. Lie has made a number of trips to Moscow for one reason or another, so he ought to have a pretty good idea of how the Kremlin operates.

As secretary general of the United Nations, however, he has not displayed any such knowledge—at least any that benefited the free nations.

Lie got to be secretary general of the U. N., a post he is currently trying to shed, because Russia wanted him to have it. He served one-term as such and Russia wanted him to have a second so badly it opposed him.

That insured an endorsement from our own State Department, and the certainty of his appointment. Any time the Moscovites want a particular individual in a U. N. office they can get him by simply objecting. It's a familiar pattern, which U. S. delegates to the U. N. fall for every time, not because they don't know any

Brownell Will Face Real House-Cleaning Job To Rid Government Of Reds And Pinks

By George Sokolsky

These Days

House Cleaning
The new Attorney General, Herbert Brownell, Jr., will undoubtedly be pressed by so-called liberals to let the subversive cases die a natural death without further excitement. However, Russian espionage cases because it is a normal serves, does not count for much because public opinion demands an immediate house cleaning as regards Communists, subversives and other vermin. That is one reason why Eisenhower was elected.

Mr. Wallach, Sir, under the Fifth Amendment to the United States Constitution I decline to answer that question.

"Senator O'Conor, Have you ever been engaged in any subversive activities against the United States Government?

Mr. Wallach, Sir, under the Fifth Amendment to the United States Constitution I must decline to answer that question. I don't consider that well, my answer stands at that."

An American is entitled under the Constitution to claim immunity from self-incrimination. Therefore, in spite of all efforts made heretofore to clean house, new vermin constantly make their appearance.

House cleaning is a permanent job that can never end. Nor can a house be cleaned by hiding the dust, silverfish and roaches under the carpet. It has been the policy of the Department of Justice to cover up. It had the facts from the FBI but would not use them. Attorney General McGranery has been making an effort but his term has been short and his assistants inadequate and dilatory.

I want to quote an example from the McCarran Committee to show how deeply set is the espionage activity of the American citizens. The defendant is Eugene Wallach, a statistician employed by the United Nations. According to the committee's counsel, Robert Morris, Wallach has been an open member of the Communist Party. So Senator Homer Ferguson asked him this question:

"As a member of the Communist Party, would you say, if a man was a member, he was an espionage agent?"

Mr. Wallach, Sir, under the

House Cleaning

He has admitted guilt in the eyes of the public even if the rules of evidence in a court. And whenever there is a conflict between public opinion, in such a country as ours, and judicial decision, public opinion prevails.

situation. The propaganda against

Act by so-called liberals, who are really acting as protectors of Communists and other subver-

sives, does not count for much

The Daily Record's Home And Building Page

New Venetian Blinds Make Home Gayer

Venetian blinds are top news again in home fashions, what with the new colors and easy-to-clean paint finishes.

For the homemaker who wants to save the time and service charge of having a Venetian blind man come and measure her windows, here are a few simple rules to follow in measuring windows for blinds:

To begin with, says the Venetian Blind Assn. of America, always use a wood or steel rule. Cloth tapes or string might stretch.

Something to Keep in Mind

Then, in beginning to measure, keep in mind the new importance of the "picture window." One way to create the impression of such a window is to bring your Venetian blinds to the outside or face of the window, let it overlap the frame and perhaps extend down to the floor. This lends width and elegance to a regular window.

Such a treatment is called an outside installation.

Here's how to measure for it:

For width, simply add three inches to each side of the outer frame of the window.

For length, start at the top edge of the casing wood, and run your rule down as far as desired—top sill or to the floor.

Begin with Width

For inside installation—that is, the blind within the window's frame—more accurate measurements are needed.

Begin again with the width, measuring exactly the number of inches from one side of the window to the other. Measure this width at the point at the top of the window where the brackets are to be placed. Then take another measurement from the top inside casing to the window sill.

Never, never make any allowances!

Because if you buy stock blinds, for regular windows, the allowances have already been provided for. Or if you phone in your order to a local dealer, he again automatically makes the necessary allowances.

Stock Blinds

Stock blinds, offered by department stores and other retail outlets, come in widths up to 48 inches, and in lengths up to 72 inches.

Make Most Of Picture Window

One of the most popular features of today's architecture is the picture window now appearing in houses of all styles, and to gain the most enjoyment from these large glass expanses, furniture must be carefully chosen and well arranged.

Chairs and sofas should be low so that they do not obstruct the view, and placed in the room to face the window instead of hugging the walls. This, of course, means that the pieces must be so designed that they are attractive from all sides. Long, low cocktail tables are especially adaptable to the picture-window room as they may be used to serve a large conversational grouping or may be placed in front of the window and used as a window seat.

As a large window exposes the room to damaging rays of the sun, be sure to select your fabrics and rugs in sunfast colors.

Gallon Of Paint For Bathroom

The walls and woodwork of the average bathroom will require two quarts to one gallon of paint for each coat. Gloss or semigloss enamel should be used because of the frequent presence of moisture and the desirability of washing wall surfaces at intervals.

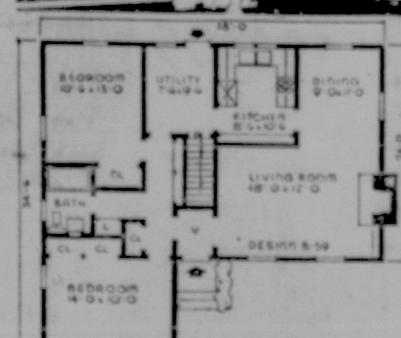

Households Increase

This year's census is expected to show an increase of 5,000,000 households since 1940 when there were 35,100,000. In 1948, there were an estimated 40,709,000 and 2,500,000 couples were sharing living quarters with other families.

Removing Calcimine

Calcimine can be removed from a wall or ceiling by sponging it with warm water. If that is not effective, use a solution of household ammonia or washing soda and water.

THE BELVIEW has a combination living-dining room which forms a comfortable L-shaped room, with three exposures looking to the front, side and rear of the house. The small, well-arranged, compact kitchen has a cabinet on the end wall. The rear entrance of The Belview opens into a small utility room, convenient to the kitchen, from which the basement stairs lead.

The front and rear entrances of The Belview are connected by the center hall which also gives access to all rooms. There is a coat closet in the hall as well as a 7 foot long storage cabinet.

There is cross light and ventilation in all of the bedrooms. The bedrooms are also equipped with large wardrobes with storage space above.

The exterior of The Belview is of frame construction with siding. The straight lines of The Belview make it easily adaptable to the substitution of concrete blocks or brick veneer for the frame.

The main body of The Belview is 38 feet wide and 24 feet deep. It has 1069 square feet with 20,320 cubic feet.

For further information about THE BELVIEW, write the Small House Planning Bureau, St. Cloud, Minn.

Questions And Answers

The walls of the kitchen in our house are badly cracked. Is there any way that these cracks can be filled before we redecorate, or should we wait until after the paint will hide the cracks?

T. H. N.

Before painting, the cracks should all be filled. Small hairline cracks can be filled with the aid of a putty knife and patching plaster. Sizable cracks should have more careful treatment. With the aid of a putty knife, cut out a wedge-shaped area along the crack. The wedge should be wider below the surface than at the surface so that the patching plaster will stay in place. After the patching plaster is inserted, the surface should be sanded smooth, then primed before the paint is applied.

N. S.

For your wallpaper I suggest a pattern in gray, red and chartreuse on a lemon yellow background and for the draperies, red.

I have just tiled my kitchen with gray marbelized plastic trimmed with burgundy. What color should I paint the walls and woodwork? The lower part of my bathroom is peach marbelized plastic tile with black rubber tile on the floor. What color should I paint the rest of the walls and woodwork and what color accessories would be nice?

C. A.

Coral would be a good color to paint the walls and woodwork of your kitchen. For the

Crawl Space Proves Useful

Space under the first floor of a house where there is no basement, and where the first floor is some distance above the surface of the ground, is known as "crawl space." The space varies in height and serves for the installation of mechanical lines and equipment when placed below the first floor.

Cover Woodwork With Paste Wax

If you have trouble keeping woodwork painted in light colors in presentable condition because of children's finger marks or other causes, wash it well, let dry, and apply a coating of paste wax. When the wax is dry, rub it well. This treatment will make the surface less vulnerable to soil.

As a large window exposes the room to damaging rays of the sun, be sure to select your fabrics and rugs in sunfast colors.

Shave Glass Measurements

When ordering window glass, have it cut from a sixteenth of an inch smaller than the opening. This is advisable because of the slight irregularities in cutting. If the glass is ordered the exact size of the opening, the chances are it won't fit.

Dry Clothes In Bath On Occasions

Sooner or later every bathroom has to double duty as a place for occasional drying of clothes, but few bathrooms are properly equipped for that job.

However, good drying equipment can be installed easily, and it need not be either conspicuous or expensive, says a Tile Council of America report on bathroom planning. Here are three solutions proposed in the report:

1. If your bathtub is set in, have two or three heavy hooks set into the clay wainscot at each end of the tub. These can be obtained in vitrores chimes to match the tile work and can be installed by the tile contractor either when the house is built or later. Lines can be strung between the hooks and the amount of drying space in the bath thus greatly increased.

2. If one end of the bathtub is free, build a tub-to-ceiling drying ladder there and paint it to match the walls of the room. The ladder is simply two uprights and a number of rods so spaced that drying clothes can hang free. A flat place can be installed at the bottom of the ladder and slanted in order to drain water from the clothes into the tub.

3. Have a shallow cabinet recessed between two studs on one bathroom wall and install an extensible or a swinging-arm rack there. The rack will provide some additional drying space and when it is not in use it can be kept completely out of the way in the cabinet.

Clean Bristle Brush When Soft

Any bristle brush can be readily cleaned, while it is still soft, with the proper thinner for the product in which it has been used. Use turpentine; followed by naphtha or mineral spirits for oil-base finishes (paint, enamel or varnish). You will need alcohol for brushes used in shellac or alcohol stain.

Laquer thinner is the thing for laquers—preferably a thinner by the same manufacturer who produced the laquer in which the brush was used.

Clean brushes which have been used in emulsions, calcimine and other water-thinned paints, with water to which a little ammonia has been added.

Junior Class Selects Date For Comedy

East Stroudsburg High School eleventh graders have chosen "Great Caesar's Ghost," a comedy by William Fischer, for production as the junior class play this year.

The play, which will be presented on Feb. 12, was chosen by a committee consisting of Sue Ellenger, Jeannie Quinlan, Ray Fellman and Fred Christman.

Ralph Bender, member of the high school English and Democracy faculty staff, will serve as faculty director of the play.

Tryouts for the play will be held at 3:30 p.m. Thursday in the high school auditorium. Charles Reid, junior class president and editor of The Eastburger, announced yesterday.

Playbooks will be distributed in the home rooms for students who wish to try out for a part in the play.

Church Club Gives Report

Dejaware Water Gap—Report of the recent every-member canvass, conducted by the Men's Club of the Presbyterian Church, was submitted when the group convened at the home of H. J. LaBar, president.

It was announced that not all families were contacted, but literature was left for everyone by the visiting teams. Arrangements for next year's canvass also were discussed.

Bennett Strait and M. L. Leffler were named to investigate means of heating the basement room of the church, which has been converted to a Sunday School room. The next meeting of the club was scheduled for Dec. 26 in the Sunday School room.

Progress for the concert to be given by Fred Waring's group was noted by Elam Gray. The concert is scheduled for Jan. 13.

Amplification of Christmas music from the church belfry was decided. Members plan to install a system which will bring either organ chimes or recorded music to the boughs.

Following the meeting Baron Reinhart entertained. LaBar, assisted by Gray, served refreshments. Also present were John Mitchell, Russell Buzzard, Francis Drake, William Heiter Jr., Clifford Hauser, Paschal Webb and George Hauser.

SPEED Is the Killer!

If you could choose priceless gifts for your family—wouldn't you choose safety and happiness?

Yet scores of drivers risk that safety and happiness by driving at excessive speeds. They court death and injury on the highways by stepping too hard on the accelerator. DECEMBER IS THE PEAK MONTH FOR TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS. SPEED IS THE PEAK REASON. More hours of darkness...wet and icy roads...overcast daylight weather...Christmas shopping and holiday traffic—all these mean that you have to reduce speed.

This is NOT a license to kill or injure.
It will be revoked or suspended for cause.

Miss Maynor Talented Singer, Respected Diplomat As Well

When Monroe County residents file into the auditorium at State Teachers College tonight at 8:30 they will be coming to hear a singer recognized as one of America's greatest.

While they listen to the soaring voice, however, they will also be watching one of this country's greatest and most respected diplomats.

Although she has no official affiliation with the State Department, Miss Dorothy Maynor shares a warm spot in the hearts of millions of Europeans who have heard her sing.

Her visits to the continent, as a concert artist, have inspired glowing praise from the critics there.

With a unanimous acclaim seldom accorded an American artist, the newspapers in France, Belgium, Germany, Italy and England have been completely won over by this "singing ambassador" whose greatest weapon is a love for the music she sings.

In this country, Miss Maynor has become known as a truly great artist who is more than willing to accept a portion of responsibility for bettering the world in which she lives.

Her appearances at inter-faith rallies throughout the nation and her constant effort to increase the opportunities for children in serious music have made her name familiar to thousands who are not attracted to the confines of the recital hall.

She is now engaged in research into the unpublished folk music of her race and is supporting many groups in the U. S. which are devoted to assisting young men and women of her race.

The wife of Dr. Shelby Rooks, pastor of St. James Presbyterian Church in New York, Miss Maynor, with her husband, is planning a community building for the church where, she says: "Everybody—young and old alike—can come, because, you see, New York is such a big city it can be a really lonely place, sometimes . . ."

A housewife who is emphatically proud of her duties in the home, Miss Maynor would "much rather talk about needlepoint" than her internationally-famous ability to sing a song.

Tonight, beginning at 8:30 when the doors of the ESSTC auditorium open to admit the Pocono Community Concert audience Miss Maynor will be concentrating on her musicianship.

The voice which inspired a Danbury reviewer to make the comment: "She is in touch with the divine!" will be uppermost in the mind of the audience.

Honeymoon Car Strikes Parked Auto

An Ohio couple on their honeymoon crashed their car into a parked automobile on N. Ninth St., Stroudsburg, at 9:45 a. m. yesterday, causing damages estimated at $350.

Stroudsburg borough police, who investigated, said Richard H. Gadd, of Canton, Ohio, driving south entering the business district, pulled into the driveway of Haynes Motors and when applying the brakes, skidded into the automobile owned by Dr. James Gavin, of 22 Glenview Ave., Stroudsburg. The couple stopped at the garage to have chains attached to the car, police said. Damage to Dr. Gavin's car was set at approximately $200 and the Ohio bridegroom's car was damaged about $350.

Man Slightly Hurt In Crash Of Two Cars

Mount Pocono—One man suffered minor injuries and $575 damage resulted from a two car collision near here at 8 a.m. yesterday.

State police said the accident occurred on Route 940 when Wesley R. Miller, 20, of Pocono Summit, crashed into the rear of a Pocono Manor truck operated by Woodrow W. Keiper, 34, of Scotrun.

Keiper told police he attempted to make a left turn and Miller's car skidded on icy paving and ran into the back of his truck. A passenger in the Pocono Manor vehicle, Elmer Schaeffer, 52, of Pocono Pines, was treated for abrasions and contusion of the head and chest in the office of Dr. E. O. Hendrick here.

Angels And Carol For Jr. Women

The Candlelit club rooms at the Stroud Community House, decorated with boughs of evergreen, was the setting for Dickens' "The Christmas Carol." Told in his own words by Miss Islay Benson, of New York City, for the members of the Junior Woman's Club.

Told simply and swiftly, the story held the audience quiet and intent, as Miss Benson used lightly dramatic movements, more suggesting than delineating the characters in the Christmas favorite.

Christmas began for the members downstairs where on their arrival they saw the art exhibit by members of the club—painted trays, hammered brass, textile designs, and textile paintings were among the work displayed by the members and arranged by the fine arts chairman, Mrs. Elwood German.

In the upstairs hall, the members of the Packhorses, one of the activity groups of the club, had arranged gilded pine cones, bases for Christmas decorations and cotton snow men for sale as their money-raising project for the welfare gifts.

In the club rooms themselves, special Christmas music by the students of Dorothy Lisette preceded the reading of the Christmas story.

A tiny tree filled with bells, held the gifts which the members exchanged with each other.

Mrs. Richard Fredenberg, the president, was in charge of the brief business meeting when announcement was made of the annual Christmas dance to be held at the Penn-Strood Hotel on December 26. Miss Barbara Wilson and Mrs. LaDora Bolcar were welcomed as new members. A letter was read from WVPO thanking the members for their help in the "I Have Voted" campaign.

After the program, refreshments were served at a table decorated with a tiny angel centerpiece, with angel food cake a highlight. Mrs. Jack Wyckoff and Mrs. Russell Scott were co-chairmen of the committee with Mrs. Robert Bixler Jr., and Mrs. Willard Kintz assisting.

Mitten Tree Is Planned For Woman's Club

A mitten tree will be a feature of the Woman's Club meeting next Monday afternoon at the Stroud Community House. Mittens of all sizes will be hung on the tree by Mrs. Frank Kerr, and later distributed to children at Christmas time.

Each member is asked to bring at least one pair of mittens, either hand made or bought. Mrs. J. B. Kiffen, Mrs. Ell Travis and Mrs. Claude Cramer are members of Mrs. Kerr's committee.

Jr. Fellowship Has Program C Jewish History

Delaware Water Gap—The parents and friends of the Gap Junior Youth Fellowship, who attended their program Sunday night in the Presbyterian Church came away enthusiastic about the program.

Mrs. Mildred Buzzard is the advisor for the group; and Miss Evelyn Widdess, the assistant advisor. After a worship service when Mary Etta Gray and Ingrid Weckwert led in prayers, each girl in the group gave a brief review of one part of the lessons in "Judaism and Christianity" they had had for eight weeks.

After this, Susan Heitler announced the play "Tobiah's Wish" and each scene. The cast was Eleanor Kulp, Marianne Drake, Mary Etta Gray, Sylvia Smith, Patsy Hayner, Paula Meixell, Ingrid Weckwert, Camille Buzzard, Sandra Carlton, Carol Snyder, Elizabeth Redding; and each part was well taken.

Mrs. Buzzard thanked Mrs. S. L. Neidorff for lending them Jewish caps; Mrs. Nathan Hammerman, for candies; and Rabbi Leibl for the candle set used in the Feast of Lights scene and for books used in their studies. After the play those present were served coco and cookies and had opportunity to see the handwork done by the girls. This display was so complete and accurate in its study of the Jewish history and faith that guests lingered long over it.

Christmas Party Ladies Auxiliary Shawnee Church

Shawnee-on-Delaware—The Ladies Auxiliary of the Shawnee Presbyterian Church will hold its Christmas meeting and party in the Parish House Wednesday night, Dec. 3, at 8.

Mrs. John Heller will give the reading of "The Other Wise Man" and the names of the secret palls will be revealed and gifts will be exchanged between them.

Hostesses for the meeting will be Mrs. Walter T. Hope, Mrs. William Ransberger and Mrs. Paul Crawn.

The jewels in watches are usually synthetically made.

Miss Repsher Is Bride Of G. W. Seese

Bushkill—Miss Pauline Ruth Repsher, daughter of William F. Repsher of Stroudsburg, became the bride of George William Seese, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Seese of Bushkill on Sunday, November 30 at 2 p.m. at the Bushkill Dutch Reformed Church.

Rev. Ernest T. Campbell, pastor of the Stroudsburg Presbyterian Church performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a long-sleeved ballerina length gown of white embroidered lace over a white satin skirt. Her full fingertip veil fell from a tiara of seed pearls, and she carried a covered white Bible with orchids.

Miss Barbara Layton, of Stroudsburg, was maid of honor and wore a blue taffeta ballerina gown with a white net-style, a flowered headpiece and a wrist corsage of gardenias.

The bridegroom's mother wore a dusty rose brocade faille dress with black accessories and a corsage of pink rosebuds.

John Bensley of Bushkill served as best man and the ushers were Walter Bensley and James Seese.

Albert DeRenzis, church organist presided at the console.

A wedding reception was held immediately following the ceremony in the Community Hall at the fire house, Bushkill. Centered on the wedding table was a five-tiered cake adorned with a miniature bride and groom under a net archway.

The bride wore a dusty rose suit with black accessories and a corsage of orchids for her traveling attire. After a wedding trip to Florida the couple will reside in their newly furnished apartment at 561 Ann Street, Stroudsburg.

Canadensis Church Scene Of Wedding

Barrett—A Methodist minister's daughter became the wife of a future Baptist minister on Saturday, November 29, when Miss Linda Lee Heilman, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Claude L. Heilman, of Canadensis, became the bride of Rev. Karl Karpa, at 4:30 p.m. at the Canadensis Methodist Church where the bride's father is pastor.

Rev. Mr. Heilman performed the ceremony. The bride wore a family wedding dress of ivory brocaded taffeta in an Empire style, with leg-of-mutton sleeves and a long train. She wore her mother's wedding veil of ivory lace over nylon net, and carried a white Bible with white carnations and shower of pale blue African violet blossoms interspersed. She carried a pale blue lace handkerchief and wore silver slippers.

Her matron of honor was her sister-in-law, Mrs. Claude J. Heilman, of Canadensis, and her maid of honor was Miss Linda Karpa of Brooklyn, N.Y., sister of the bridegroom. The matron of honor wore pale orchid Chantilly lace and net dress with deep purple velvet slippers, with a tiara of matching flowers. Her bouquet was a spray of orchid chrysanthemums. The maid of honor was in rose colored taffeta with a colonial bouquet of pink chrysanthemums with a tiara to match.

Arch Cervera of Baptist Seminary, Philadelphia, was best man, and M. Moyer, also of Baptist Seminary and A. H. Wilkinson of Buck Hill Falls, were ushers.

The bride's mother wore a dress of dark blue taffeta with white hat and gloves, silver fox furs, and a corsage of Glorioso lillies. The bride's maternal grandmother wore a black dress with a lace yoke.

The bridegroom's mother wore light blue taffeta with a blue hat and white gloves and a corsage of Glorioso lillies.

A reception for forty guests was held at Pine Knob Inn. A two-tiered wedding cake with wedding bells was flanked by white candles and green sprays.

Rev. and Mrs. Karpa are now on a wedding trip to Williamsburg, Va. For traveling the bride wore a black and silver taffeta dress with a black and silver hat and bag, black shoes, white gloves, with a pink coat and squirrel neckpiece.

On their return they will stay at Eastern Baptist Seminary, Philadelphia, where Mr. Karpa is completing his studies. He is a graduate of Eastern Baptist College and will be a Baptist minister. The bride is a graduate of St. Clair High School and Methodist Hospital School of Nursing in Philadelphia.

THE Wyckoff SHOPPER

How should a cup of coffee be? According to the old proverb, the answer is "Hot as embers, black as the Devil, strong as death, and sweet as love." This is the very sentiment expressed on a striking and very provincial looking note now on sale in our Wyckoff gift department.

Background for this six inch square "hot pad" is reddish brown, flecked with white stars. In the very center of the design, a large, old-fashioned coffee pot steams merrily, spelling out, in flowing white script, the French words translated above. A felt mat attached to the back will protect the table from scratches, and there is also a hook if one desires to use the tile as a provocative wall decoration.

The letters J. H. J. appear at the base of the coffee pot, and are the initials of John Jacoby, one of the most widely respected artists of contemporary America. An acquaintance of Walter Wyckoff, Mr. Jacoby has designed much of the decoration for one of the largest new vessels currently afloat. (The name momentarily escapes us, but it may be the United States.)

Mr. Jacoby has planned the coffee pot tile with two types of tables in mind. One version, lavishly trimmed with gold, would be correct in a rather elaborate dinner setting. My favorite, however, is in black, brown and white, and seems to be more in keeping with the casual table arrangement which most of us favor.

One of the most popular parts of the tile is the part of Mary reading the Bible story from Luke and giving the benediction. Mrs. Frances Hartzell Meredith sang "Once to Every Man and Nation" as a closing prayer.

At the business meeting before the program, the group decided to take part in the White Gift Service, and also to set a day in May to visit the United Nations.

Mrs. Charlotte Westbrook suggested that members send Christmas cards to men in service.

Refreshments were served in the dining room with Mrs. Ray Welsh as chairman of the committee which included Mrs. Alfred Rupp, Mrs. William Davis, Mrs. Robert Wilson, Mrs. L. E. Ace, Mrs. C. B. Altemose, Mrs. James Arbogast, Mrs. Joseph Andre, Mrs. Jack Baldwin, Mrs. Wellington Barnhard, and Mrs. Fred Bartholomew.

The bride was attired in a beige faille suit with white accessories and wore a corsage of white orchids. The matron of honor wore a brown faille dress with yellow accessories and a corsage of yellow pompons.

A reception followed in the social room of the church. After a trip to South Carolina, Mr. and Mrs. Dalberg will be at home to their friends at the Dalberg home on Upper State St. Mrs. Dalberg is a member of the Fidelity Circle of the Presbyterian Church and a past worthy matron of the Eastern Stars, Ethel Chapter, at Bangor. Mr. Dalberg, who is station agent at Portland for the D.L. & W.R.R. is an elder of the Presbyterian Church where both he and Mrs. Dalberg are members.

They are asking members of the auxiliary to bring a 25 cent gift for exchange. The meeting time has been moved up to 7:45 to allow time for the party activities after the business meeting. Each member is asked to bring cookies or sandwiches for the refreshments, and friends and families are invited.

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Football season may be over for the players at East Stroudsburg High school, but not for the coaches. Head mentor Jack Kist and assistant Del Davis are slated to attend a clinic in Scranton on Friday and Saturday of this week. Dick Forster, who doubles as head basketball and assistant grid mentor, would ordinarily make the trip too, but his basketball team opens its season next Tuesday, when Phillipsburg High school invades the N. Courtland St. gymnasium, and he has plenty of work to handle along this line.

Interest in basketball at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College seems to be higher this year than it has since Ray Welsh departed from Normal Hill. Judging by the scrimmage session against Moravian College last month, Coach Chris Denis has put together a good team and one that should do more than alright in the 16 games to be played this year. The large crowd of students that attended the practice game is proof that basketball is apparently on the way back at ESSTC, despite the earliness of the date. The Warriors scrimmage against Moravian again tonight, in Bethlehem.

Earl "Chick" Craig, well known baseball player in the Phillipsburg-Easton area and in Wilkes-Barre, has signed a professional contract with the Williamsport Bills, of the Eastern Basketball League, for the coming campaign. Craig is an uncle to Byron Miller, a member of the Stroudsburg High basketball team. Jack Sommers, quarterback on the East Stroudsburg High football squad, shot a nine-point buck yesterday.

Now is the time that those who caught the eye of football scouts during the season just completed begin hearing from colleges throughout the nation. Lafayette College yesterday demonstrated an interest in six local grididers, five from East Stroudsburg and one from Stroudsburg. The quintet from East Stroudsburg consists of Jim Fritz, George Litts, John "Juice" Arnst, Dick Merring and Joe Shea. The Stroudsburg gridder is Al Adelmann, captain and end for the Mountaineers during the campaign just completed.

Several of the football stars named above have received at least feelers from other colleges. Bill Bailey, high scoring fullback from Stroudsburg High, has received feelers from Ithaca College, Muhlenberg and Xavier thus far. Bailey led the Stroudsburg grid machine in scoring with 62 points, while Merring was the top man for the Cavaliers of East Stroudsburg, with 78 markers. Each school daily receives letters from colleges seeking information on its top football talent that is scheduled to graduate in June.

Bailey was present as a spectator at last night's Stroudsburg-Bangor basketball game, but the W. Main St. football and basketball star was using crutches to get around, as the result of a knee injury suffered in the Stroudsburg-East Stroudsburg football game last Thursday. Karl Weingartner was another member of the Stroudsburg High cage machine not even in uniform last night. Karl suffered an ankle injury in the same football game last week. Both Bailey and Weingartner are expected to miss several early season basketball contests.

Two former North Atlantic League baseball stars are scheduled to be discharged from the Army in time to join their major league clubs in the spring. Danny O'Connell will be out in time to take over the shortstop post for the Pittsburgh Pirates, who are expected to lose last year's shortstop, Dick Groat, to the draft sometime this winter. O'Connell got his start in baseball when Bloomingdale, N.J., was a member of the NAL. Danny was a third baseman at that time, in 1946. Carl Sawatski, hard hitting catcher, who also started in baseball with Bloomingdale, will be out of the Army in time to rejoin the Chicago Cubs.

Sawatski, who weighs 221 pounds, and O'Connell were first string performers at their respective positions when the draft called them a couple of years in the past. Sawatski is one of the hardest hitters and certainly one of the best receivers to ever come out of the North Atlantic League. By next week all the scholastic cage machines in Monroe County will be well underway. There's no longer a show vacation between football and basketball in this area.

Long Career
Sawatski has coached North Carolina teams 10 years, the last eight straight. His over-all coaching career numbers 26 years, including a term at Cornell.

No successor has been named but the probable list includes Maryland's Jim Tatum, Johnny Vaughn of Mississippi and George Barley and Jim Gill, present members of the North Carolina staff.

Bangor Wins First Basketball Game From Stroudsburg

Foul Shooting Decides Issue For Slaters

Bangor High school won its first basketball game over Stroudsburg High last night, when the maroon and white clad cage pupils of Coach John Heard hung a 61-50 licking on the Mountaineers, before a small crowd at the W. Main St. court. It was the opening game of the 1952-1953 season for both schools.

Stroudsburg managed to keep the home fans at least partially happy with a 44-27 victory in the junior varsity encounter.

Last night's contest was the first of the present campaign for both teams.

Stroudsburg managed to stay within striking distance of the Slates, although the Mountaineers trailed by 11 points at one time in the first half. Stroudsburg pulled to within three points of Bangor early in the final round, only to have the Slates spurt and put the contest on ice.

Bangor went out front at the end of the first period, 14-0, and then reached the halftime intermission on the long end of a 29-23 count, thanks to a slim 13-14 advantage at the halfway mark.

Upper Hand

The Slates continued to hold the upper hand in the third stanza, 16-15, and in the final round, 16-12. Bangor entered the last period on the long end of a 43-38 score, but the Mountaineers pulled to within three points of the Heardmen early in the final round. However, Bangor found the range when the chips were down and went on to gain the victory.

Bangor actually won the ball game from the foul line, cannoning 25 of 35 charity shots, while Stroudsburg registered 12 of 24 shots from the same mark.

The Stroudsburg charges of Coach Sam Russell had a 19-18 edge in the field goal department.

Byron "Chick" Miller was the top scorer for Stroudsburg, with 18 points, while Garry Wynne and Joe Heard, with 20 and 18 markers respectively, paced Bangor to the opening day victory.

Stroudsburg and Bangor tangent again, next Tuesday, on the Bangor High court.

Snavely Quits Football Post

Chapel Hill, N. C. (AP) — Carl Snavely yesterday resigned as head football coach at the University of North Carolina.

The veteran mentor asked to be relieved of his duties as head football coach effective January 1, 1953. The university athletic council accepted the resignation and said he would be assigned to other duties in the department of athletics and physical education, possibly teaching.

Long Career

Snavely has coached North Carolina teams 10 years, the last eight straight. His over-all coaching career numbers 26 years, including a term at Cornell.

No successor has been named but the probable list includes Maryland's Jim Tatum, Johnny Vaughn of Mississippi and George Barley and Jim Gill, present members of the North Carolina staff.

Coolbaugh's Rally Fails To Nip Moscow

TOBHANNA — Coolbaugh's driving finish fell two points short of its goal last night, as the charges of Coach Don Wismer bowed before Moscow, 43-41, here on the Coolbaugh High court. It was the opening game of the campaign for both teams.

Coolbaugh gained a measure of revenge by bringing home the banner in the junior varsity encounter, 14-11.

Moscow held the upper hand through the first three periods, but Coolbaugh rallied brilliantly in the final round to just miss in its last ditch bid for victory.

Early Advantage

The visiting Moscow crew jumped off to a 9-5 edge in the first quarter, then came back to increase its margin with a 10-6 verdict in the second round. Moscow led 19-11 at the halfway mark.

Both teams increased the scoring tempo in the third round, but once again Moscow held the upper hand, this time 16-14. Moscow entered the fourth and final quarter on the long end of a 35-25 score.

However, Coolbaugh put on a spirited finishing kick to pull even with Moscow late in the final round, only to bow out of the game in the final 10 seconds of action.

Coolbaugh made good on 13 of 23 foul shots, while Moscow rang the bell from the same distance on nine of 20 charity tosses.

Dick Merring

Merring Voted Captain Of Grid Squad

Dick Merring, senior left halfback who led the East Stroudsburg High football team in scoring this season, last night was elected honorary captain for the season just closed.

The election took place in the dining room of the Red Top Tavern, just before a banquet given in honor of the Cavanners.

Merring emerged victorious by the narrowest of margins, when the first ballot resulted in a tie with John "Juice" Arms and Paul "Candy" Miller. A second ballot produced Merring, an academic student, as the 1952 captain.

Top Scorer

The newly elected captain led his mates in scoring this season with 78 points, on the strength of 13 touchdowns.

Merring addressed brief remarks to the 35 people attending the banquet following his election.

The newly elected leader succeeds Marlin "Ducky" Martz, a member of the East Stroudsburg State Teachers College grid machine, who captained the Cavanners in 1951.

No salary was announced by E. J. "Buzzy" Bavasi, Dodger vice-president who said the 54-year-old skipper had received a "substantial increase." It was reliably reported to be about $35,000.

Dressen said he would retain his present coaching staff of Billy Herrem, Jake Pitled and "Cookie" Lavagetto but would hire a new bullpen coach to replace George Fister, headed for a minor league managing job.

At the request of Dressen, who said it always is an honor to be the first player signed, Bavasi revealed Pitcher Joe Black, the Dodgers' relief ace, had come to terms.

Here again the salary represented substantial increase, probably $15,000.

Barrett Opens Season With Victory Over Pocono, 47-37

First Half Edge Decides Court Issue

Canadensis — A nine-point advantage in the first half enabled Barrett High to open its 1952-1953 basketball season with a 47-37 decision over Pocono High, here on the winning contingent's home court last night. It was also the initial game of the campaign for Pocono.

Barrett enjoyed a perfect night by coming through with a narrow 21-20 victory in the junior varsity encounter, played as the preliminary contest.

Pocono found the going tough during the first and second periods, but the blue and white clad charges of Coach Harry Werkeheiser held their own during the third and fourth rounds.

Good Start

Barrett, under the guidance of Coach Joe Murray, opened hostilities by gaining a 13-8 advantage in the opening quarter, then came back with a 12-4 edge in the second stanza to hold a 25-18 lead at the halfway mark.

Both clubs tallied 10 points in the third round, but Barrett made certain of victory by gaining a slim 11-10 margin during the final eight minutes of action.

Stan Cheslock and Paul Gravel led the winning attack with 12 and 10 points respectively, while Larry Butz and Ronnie Boyer were the big guns in a losing cause, with 16 and 11 markers respectively.

Lattner Captures Maxwell Trophy

Philadelphia (39)—Johnny Lattner, Notre Dame's brilliant offensive and defensive halfback, yesterday was named the outstanding football player of 1952 by the Maxwell Memorial Football Club.

Second

Lattner is the second Notre Dame player to win the award, established in 1937 in honor of Robert "Tiny" Maxwell, a football official killed in an automobile accident. Leon Hart, former Notre Dame All-American and currently a star for the Detroit Lions in the National Football League, won the honor in 1950.

BANQUET—A portion of the crowd that attended the banquet for the East Stroudsburg High school football team in the dining room of the Red Top Tavern last night is pictured above. There were 55 people in attendance at the second annual affair.

Eastburg Grid Squad Feasts On Turkey

New York, CP—The American Broadcasting Co. said yesterday it will start telecasting a weekly fight over its network on Saturday night, starting January 24, thus giving boxing four live shows a week over various TV networks.

An ABC spokesman said Bayuk Cigars, Inc., had closed a deal in which a newly created outfit, Famous Sports Enterprises, Inc., will supply the bouts from various arenas around the country.

New Group

Famous Sports Enterprises is headed by Ray Areel, noted trainer and manager and an official of the recently organized International Boxing Guild.

Under the plan, it was learned, bouts will be staged in different cities, such as Baltimore, Washington and Philadelphia. The promoters in these cities will co-promote the fights with the television sponsor supplying the big part of the bankroll.

Short speeches were heard from Carl Secor, supervising principal of East Stroudsburg public schools; Ralph O. Burrows, principal of East Stroudsburg High; Jack Kist, head football mentor; Dick Foster and Del Davis, assistant grid coaches; Lewis Hastie, faculty athletic manager, and Irving "Itchy" Sommers, who took movies of all of East Stroudsburg's home games this season.

Toastmaster

John Eaton, a senior in the high school, served as toastmaster for the affair.

Movies of the Stroudsburg-East Stroudsburg football game, played on Thanksgiving Day, were shown at the end of the affair.

Ice cream for the banquet was given with the compliments of Jack's Market, a local organization behind the Cavaliers all season.

Wallace Meets Dunlap

Detroit (CP)—Two young heavyweights, New Yorker Coley Wallace and Californian Bob Dunlap, will provide the nation's TV boxing fans their regular Wednesday boxing fare tonight.

Taylor To Manage White Sox Farm

Waterloo, Ia. (CP)—James W. "Zack" Taylor, 54, former major league baseball player and former manager of the St. Louis Browns has been named manager of the Waterloo White Hawks in the Class B Three-I League for 1953.

Announcement

Announcement of Taylor's appointment was received here yesterday from Tom Rigney, general manager of the Waterloo club.

Rigney is attending a minor league meeting in Phoenix, Ariz.

The White Hawks are a Chicago White Sox affiliate.

Taylor managed the Scranton, Pa., minor league club last year.

Native Dancer Named Top Two-Year-Old

By John Chandler

New York, CP—Native Dancer, unbeaten grey son of Polynesian and greatest money winning juvenile in the history of racing in this country, was the unanimous choice yesterday as two-year-old champion colt by the Thoroughbred Racing Association's board of selection.

The board, made up of secretaries of the 37 member TRA tracks, also voted Sweet Patoofie, daughter of Alquist, champion two-year-old filly of 1952.

Native Dancer, winner of all nine of his races last season and winter horse favorite for next year's Kentucky Derby, is bred and owned by Alfred G. Vanderbilt, New York sportsman and president. The TRA opened its annual two-day convention here yesterday.

Earnings

Native Dancer, by Polynesian-Gelding, earned $230,495, and captured seven stakes races.

The Vanderbilt colt, trained by Bill Winfrey, is an outstanding contender for honors as American champion of 1952. This award will be announced at the TRA's annual dinner tomorrow night.

Native Dancer is at Santa Anita in California for the winter, but Winfrey says the colt won't race until next year when he goes after the triple crown—Derby, Preakness and Belmont.

Sweet Patoofie, owned by Mrs. E. E. Dale Shaffer of Lexington, Ky., received 31 of a possible 37 votes as the best juvenile filly. In 12 starts, the tiny dark bay daughter of Alquist—Sweet Woman won eight races, and was second in the other four, earnings $61,917.

13-Year-Old Boy Kills 6-Point Buck

Newfoundland — A 13-year-old Newfoundland boy became the youngest area resident to report a buck kill during the first two days of deer hunting season yesterday. He was Bobby Lupcho, 13, who brought down a six-pointer in the Huckleberry Hill region near here.

Pike and Wayne County hunters brought down their share of bucks during the first two days with a total of five deer shot, ranging in size from four to eight points.

One of the lucky hunters was a woman—Mrs. Alberta Beeseker of Newfoundland—who bagged an eight-pointer to cop first place in the point sweepstakes. Mrs. Beeseker shot the buck near Green town in Pike County.

Other successful hunters were: Walter Voeste, Angels, who got a seven-point buck near that place; Everett Snow, Angels, a four-pointer near Canadensis and Arthur Crocker, Newfoundland, a four-pointer near Greentown.

Tuberculosis Society Invites Replies From Two-Thirds Of Those Who Received Seals

Slightly more than one-third of the persons who received Christmas Seals in the mail have returned the money for their purchases to the Monroe County Tuberculosis and Health Society which sponsors the annual sale.

A total of 2,627 persons have responded to the sale thus far. Mrs. Estelle Fleming, executive secretary of the society, said yesterday. This represents a third of the total number of envelopes mailed out to county residents—7,292 letters in all.

A second Girl Scout troop (No. 16, Tannersville, supervised by Mrs. Arlene Scharf) will also cooperate in the preparation of the cards this week.

The purpose of the cards, Mrs. Fleming emphasized, is merely to "remind" the residents that they have the seals in their homes.

With the hectic rush of wrapping packages and the general confusion brought about by the pre-Christmas season, Mrs. Fleming pointed out, it's all too easy for the busy housewife to lose track of that envelope containing the seals.

The local Tuberculosis and Health Society, which conducts a free tuberculosis clinic and sponsors the annual visits of the mobile chest-x-ray unit to this area, has a goal of $8,000 for this year.

The society makes one and only one appeal for funds during the course of the year. Its work is carried out entirely on the funds brought in from the sale of Christmas seals.

Additional seals are now available for those who want to purchase an extra sheet before Christmas time. Mrs. Fleming announced yesterday.

These seals will be mailed out following a request by telephone to the Stroudsburg office. Persons wishing to buy extra seals may do so by calling Stroudsburg 1371.

The speaker stressed the psychological importance of making the worker feel that he belongs in the effort to increase safe working conditions.

Burke was introduced by David Hickman, Philadelphia district sales manager for the Revere company. The appearance of both men on the program was arranged by Horace Waiters, program chairman for the club.

Bill Goddard, president of the club, was in charge of the meeting. A report from the membership committee indicated that the Monroe club has gone "over the top" in memberships.

A total of 105 members has been announced this year, the committee said.

Entertainment at last night's meeting was provided by Francis Hartzell Meredith, who sang three solos. He was accompanied by Bert Fregans at the piano.

Hargadine disclosed this was the third investigation of the Gottier Mills and on each previous occasion, Fair Labor Standards Act violations were uncovered. The present investigation showed a total of $1,612 due five employees because of overtime underpayments, Hargadine said.

Mrs. Vilma Mumbauer Hurt In Headon Collision Of Vehicles On W. Main Street

A Stroudsburg woman was treated at Monroe County General Hospital, East Stroudsburg, yesterday afternoon following a head-on collision on W. Main St., Stroudsburg at 12:15 p.m.

Mrs. Vilma Mumbauer, 1928 W. Main St., was released after X-rays, Stroudsburg borough police said. She sustained a chest injury after a truck collided with her car in front of 1154 W. Main St. She was taken to the hospital by ambulance.

Police said the truck which hit Mrs. Mumbauer's car was driven by Arthur Moellen, 49, of Hanover, N.J., who swerved to avoid hitting another car which had just crashed into a service pole.

The series of collisions started when Carmine Teta, 49, of 254 Grove St., South Hackensack, N.J., traveling east on W. Main St., skidded on wet paving, sideswiped the pole and the impact threw the rear of his car onto the highway.

Moellen, driving a light delivery truck behind Teta, swerved north to avoid a crash and ran head-on into Mrs. Mumbauer's car, traveling west.

Damages estimates include about $75 to Teta's sedan; $125 to Mrs. Mumbauer's car and $40 to Moellen's truck. No one else was injured and no charges were preferred by police, since road conditions were the chief blame.

E. EUGENE ANGLEMEYER, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Anglemeyer, of Arlington Heights, is attending Penn State College. Enrolled in the School of Electrical Engineering, he is also a member of the Air Force ROTC at the college.

Minor Damage In Accident

Damage of $185 occurred when a car skidded on Foxtown Hill at 1 p.m. yesterday, scraping the fender of a parked vehicle.

Operator of the skidding car was John F. Agee, 28, Jessup, Pa., a soldier who was driving toward Stroudsburg on Route 611, according to Pfc. Joseph Murphy of the Stroudsburg barracks.

The parked car was owned by Clarence W. Smith, 170 N. Courtland St., East Stroudsburg. Damage to his car was estimated at $60, and to the soldier's, $125.

Portland

Mrs. Gladys Carpenter
Ph. Portland 22-B

Mrs. Carl Cramer has returned to her home on Main Street after being a patient at the Monroe County General Hospital, East Stroudsburg for several days. Mrs. Cramer was accompanying her husband home on last Tuesday night when on the Mt. Bethel-Bangor road, a deer ran into the car. Mr. Cramer lost control of the car and crashed into a tree. He was severely bruised and cut while Mrs. Cramer suffered fractured ribs, wrist and cuts of the face. She was removed to the hospital by ambulance. Her condition is reported much improved.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Reese, of Elington, were Sunday visitors of Mrs. Reese's sister, Mrs. E. Randall Carpenter on Delaware Ave.

Miss Jessie Delp, of Potistown, returned to her teaching duties on Sunday after spending the holiday and weekend at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Floyd Delp Sr. and family.

Miss Milda Edwards, of South Orange, N.J., spent the holiday and weekend with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. David R. Edwards at the Presbyterian manse.

Miss Ruth Jones, of Bethlehem, spent the holiday and weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Lewis Jones on Delaware Ave.
